

Endeavour Newsletter - September

BECAPS day

Thank you to everyone who turned up. We hope that you found the presentations interesting, the equipment forms easy to fill out and the sausages suitably greasy.

Equipment Forms

These are DUE today! Today being Thursday the 1st of September and all. The lovely ladies in the general office (3rd level SEECs building) are ready to take them. If your team has not got them in on time...the wrath of Ba-Ngu Vo shall descend upon thee...

Endeavour Website

We have had a few emails concerning errors/additions on various project pages. Keep them coming! It is up to you to check your page for errors. Also, check out the Endeavour photo board. It contains photos from BECAPS day and Open day. We will be in the project labs in the coming weeks to take photos of you working hard and looking brainy.

Project Posters

Suggestions on what to include;

- Title and also brief explanation of what it does (in everyday terms).
- What principals and theories have you used?
- Give examples.
- Include simple diagrams of the internal mechanics
- How does this improve everyday life?
- Lots of colour. Your pictures should take up a greater percentage of space over words.

You do not have to go into much depth. The aim of the poster is to draw people's attention and interest. And then if they like, they can ask you questions for more in-depth information. Ask your supervisor for ideas (most of them have done this before).

Exhibition Guide

Obviously your project descriptions (as beautiful as they are) are too long to fit into the exhibition guide. What we need are shortened versions (\approx 100 words) of your project. You can either write one from scratch or just cut one from your full length version on the website. Just email them to Ephraim (e.mrad@ugrad.unimelb.edu.au) with your project code in the subject line by Thursday 15th September.

Endeavour2005 Dinner

When the Endeavour Day exhibition is over, we will be providing dinner for everyone at the Union House bar so you can take a break before the industry & awards night begins (at 7:15pm). If you have any dietary requirements (i.e. vegetarian, halal etc) please let Rob know (r.hooke@ugrad.unimelb.edu.au) before the 8th of September.
